

As far as I can tell all the trains listed below should be correct, but as ever mistakes can be made, so get in touch by email if I have omitted any errors.

WEEKDAY DIAGRAMS

The weekday loco-hauled diagrams require 11 sets of stock for 15 engines. In addition to the loco-hauled diagrams below, it is also worth noting that the following trains are booked to be class 321s and class 360s on the London to Norwich corridor:

- 1p09 07:05 Stowmarket to London
- 1p17 08:02 Stowmarket to London
- 1p48 17:02 London to Norwich
- 1p65 19:30 Norwich to London

SUMMER SATURDAY DIAGRAMS

The loco-hauled diagrams for Saturday's (which includes the Great Yarmouth drags) requires 11 sets of stock for 15 locos. These run from 25/5/13 to 28/9/13 inclusive.

In addition, there are no unit diagrams to worry about for Saturday operations between Norwich and London. The information below becomes invalid in the event of any engineering work although headcodes shall largely be unchanged with the exception of those going to and from Yarmouth.

SUNDAY DIAGRAMS

The loco-hauled diagrams noted below for Sunday's are subject to engineering work and service alterations which take place at weekends. However, the headcodes remain largely unchanged even if engineering work is happening on the route and are applicable until further notice.
