

The intermodals listed below are the planned or expected trains to be hauled by Freightliner class 90(s). Please note that on the odd occasion, any of the listed trains could be worked by other traction types. Additionally, class 90s could also work other intermodals not listed below as required if the booked traction type is not available. The headcodes and timings are based on the December 2023 timetable which came into effect on the 10/12/23.

At the time of writing, some of the trains noted above are NOT always electric traction for one reason or another, therefore it should be used a guide and we cannot be held liable if class 90s do not appear on the train. The information is supplied in good faith. Thank you for your understanding.

Miscellaneous Northbound Intermodals:

The list of trains shown below are sometimes hauled by a Freightliner class 90, therefore should be used as a guide (more often than not they are diesel hauled). In addition, there are also light engine movements using class 90s, which have NOT been listed below. Lastly, some trains run in different paths and timings at short notice on different days of the week, therefore it is best to check websites such as RTT to see if a specific train is running on the day, you looking for.
